

Engineering & Anthropocene?

New Challenges, New Pathways in the Humanities and Social Sciences

International Colloquium
Thursday December 12th 2024

8h30-18h

CNAM

Gaston Planté Amphitheatre
2 rue Conté
Paris 3^e arr.

How do 21st-century engineers address the challenges and questions brought about by the entry into the Anthropocene? How do the humanities and social sciences contribute to this positioning, especially in education?

Programme

- 8h30 Welcoming Coffee
- 8h45 Opening Words by Béatrice Jalenques-Vigouroux,
Ingenium Network President
- 9h00 Inaugural Conference by Denis Lemaître, *Ingenium
Network Founding Member*
- 10h00 Round table with Nathanaël Wallenhorst (LIRFE, UCO),
Catherine Adam (EPsi, FOAP) and Nathan Coutable
(OFC), chaired by Lucie Cuvelier (Ingenium Network)
- 11h30 First Workshop Session
- 12h30 Lunch at the CNAM Salon d'honneur
All participants are invited
- 14h00 Second Workshop Session
- 16h00 Workshops Summary Round Table
- 17h30 Closing Address by Béatrice Jalenques-Vigouroux
and Christelle Didier (EPsi)

Mandatory Free Registration by clicking here

More information at <https://reseau-ingenium.fr>